Re: Hnin Qui, 2/3/1957, 343-235-3423

Dear ENT department,

I would like to refer the following patient. Mrs Qui has presented with sudden onset left facial pain and persistent and repeated epistaxis. She claims to have difficulty swallowing and reports recent weight loss.

She has no other past medical history, but her medical records are limited as she emigrated from China 5 years ago.

She is a current smoker, works in a carpentry shop and drinks alcohol.

I would like her to be seen in ENT department to determine the nature of her symptoms.

Many thanks,

Dr. Gray
